

Abstract of the Disclosure

A personalized medication card for patients includes a listing of medicine pills to be taken by the patient, a color image of each pill, and instructions for administering the pills into the body.